

HARDING RESUMES DUTIES AS SENATOR

Nominee Showered With Congratulations by Wire and Personally in Office

POSES FOR CAMERA MEN

Dictates Friendly Message to French Republic—Will See Hays Next Week.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. WASHINGTON, June 14.—Tangible evidence of the widespread approval of Warren G. Harding's selection as the Republican Presidential nominee was given today in an avalanche of telegrams that arrived at the Senator's office at the Capitol. The messages poured in from all parts of the country, from almost all of the nationally known Republican leaders, who pledged support; from innumerable figures high in the financial and commercial world, some from Democrats, and others from many persons whose identity is not apparent. The telegrams arrived literally by the hundred to greet the nominee, who had been back only a few hours from his remarkable triumph at the Chicago convention.

Senator Harding, although it was long after midnight before he got to bed, went to his office about the middle of the morning with a fresh and vigorous appearance that was the marvel of those who had been aware of his work in the last few days of the convention. He came in smiling, of course, which might have been expected of somebody who went away for something and brought it back with him.

Flings and Flowers on Desk.

The office force was ready when he arrived. Over the desk in the Senatorial private office was a huge American flag and upon the desk was a large bunch of roses. In a dozen large piles were the telegrams that had arrived, many of them on Sunday before the Senator and Mrs. Harding got back to Washington aboard the convention special from Chicago. Those messages which obviously were the more important were placed in one heap, to be looked at first, but the others were to be gone over when there was more leisure.

"Hello, everybody," Senator Harding said when he entered his office. "Well, we won," he added, as the little group showered him with congratulations. "We are all mighty happy."

Newspaper correspondents and motion and still picture camera operators tried to engage the Senator's attention all at once, so he posed for the camera, talking at the same time. He said he would have no statement for publication at this time, indicating that he did not care to make any announcement of political importance at least until after he had conferred with party leaders, and perhaps not until after he had received the formal notification of his nomination.

Chairman Hays of the Republican National Committee, who will be in general charge of the campaign, will come to Washington in a few days for a conference with the Senator. It is understood that he will be here next Monday, although it was said at Senator Harding's office that a date had not been fixed.

Will "Take to the Woods" Awhile.

At this conference, which will be one of several in which Republican leaders will participate, important matters of general character will be considered. And then when it is over Senator Harding is going to "take to the woods" for a complete rest, since this will be about the only opportunity he will have during the summer to get entirely away from everybody and everything and put himself in trim for the campaign. Where he will go has not as yet been determined, but it is likely that it will be some quiet resort, off somewhere completely out of the political atmosphere that the Senator has been in since the primary campaign began in the early spring.

The return to Marion, Ohio, Senator Harding's home town, will be deferred until July is well under way. Some of his friends thought he would go there about July 10, but it is indefinite. The formal notification of the nomination will be made at Marion immediately following his return to his home. From that time forward the campaign will be under way.

Senator Harding's cordial reception of the newspaper correspondents today emphasized the fact that if elected they will have much greater access to governmental developments than have been enjoyed by them in recent years. And this is important to the country at large, for Washington correspondents have had some troubles of their own with the operation of certain of the general news sources at odd and sundry times.

"You must remember that I am a

THIRD PARTY TALK CAUSES NO ALARM

Threat to Bolt Brings No Response From the Radical Wing.

MALCONTENTS ARE FEW

They'd Rather See Harding Elected Than Prolong Democratic Control.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. WASHINGTON, June 14.—Republican leaders here were untroubled by despatches from Chicago to the effect that the so-called "committee of forty-eight," headed by Amos Pinchot, was to organize a third party and had called a convention there for July 19 to nominate a Presidential candidate.

The story revived the talk that the radical Republicans, headed by Senator Johnson (Cal.) and Borah (Idaho), and backed by La Follette (Wis.), might start a third party movement because of alleged dissatisfaction with the nomination of Senator Harding. It was suggested that this might give them opportunity to join another party without trying to form one themselves.

This is largely discounted here, however, by the general impression that the principles advocated by the committee of forty-eight fall far short of anything to which the radicals would subscribe. Furthermore, emphasis was placed on the fact that, admitting their dissatisfaction over the defeat of Senator Johnson, they would far rather see Harding elected than prolong for four years Democratic control of the White House by a President pledged to the Wilson treaty.

It was further asserted here today that up to this time Senator Borah is the only radical who has openly mentioned "dissatisfaction" with the Harding selection, and his discontent thus far has confined itself only to what would naturally be expected of such a strong Johnson partisan as Senator Borah has been.

Some of the Senators who returned from the Chicago convention recalled an incident which occurred there after the convention had completed its work. Murmurs of discontent began immediately from the radical group, and one of them remarked that he was "not reconciled yet."

"That's right," a radical editor put in at that point, "and that is one of the reasons why we have conventions several months before we hold the election."

"The worst that is expected," one Republican Senator said today, "is that those who ardently desired the nomination of Senator Johnson will not campaign so vigorously in behalf of the present nominee as they would have had the Californian been chosen by the convention."

The suggestion was put forth here in Democratic circles today that the organization of a third party, such as seems contemplated by the malcontents mentioned in the Chicago despatches, would hinder rather than aid the Democratic cause. Such a party, it was said, would draw more largely from the Democratic than from the Republican party, and might attract radical labor groups and similar elements that otherwise would vote for the Democratic candidate.

Hasband and Wife Poisoned.

Boston, June 14.—George A. Hamilton and his wife, Irene, 10 today, victims of wood alcohol poisoning, in the opinion of physicians who attended them. Medical Examiner Leary ordered an analysis of the contents of a bottle of colorless liquid found in their room in a South End lodging house.

Higher Freight Rates Favored.

Eighty-five per cent of the membership of the Manufacturers' Council of New Jersey have voted in favor of increased freight rates for the railroads of the country, it was announced yesterday by Warren C. King, the president. The result of the balloting is to be forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Prices realized on Swift & Company's sale of carcass beef in New York City for week ending Saturday, June 12th, 1920, on shipments sold out ranged from 15 cents to 24 cents per pound and averaged 20.50 cents per pound.—Ad.

SHE HAD HORSESHOE. COOLIDGE A SURE WIN

New York Women Delegates Back, Proud of Ticket.

"The original Coolidge woman booster," as she calls herself, arrived yesterday afternoon on the Republican special from Chicago carrying a horseshoe. The lucky bit of iron is responsible, she declares, for the nomination of the Massachusetts Governor for the position of Vice-President.

She is Miss Laura Skinner, member of the Republican State Women's Executive Committee and an election district captain in the Tenth Assembly district. Miss Skinner found the horseshoe just outside the Coliseum the first day of the convention. She picked it up and took it along with her to her seat in the convention hall, which was seat No. 13.

The horseshoe took the hoodoo off the 13 and influenced votes for her favorite, she says. Of course she wanted to see him get first place, but she expressed surprise over the ticket, declaring, "It's fine, and we all like it."

Another to arrive on the special was Mrs. Olive Stott Gabriel, an alternate. Mrs. Gabriel had rooted for Lowden so hard both before and during the first part of the convention that she was hoarse. She is pleased with the nomination of Senator Harding and declares she was one of the first women at the gathering to wear a Harding button.

Mrs. Ruth Litt of Suffolk county was another member of the party. All the delegates, alternates and the two alternates at large, Miss Helen Varick Boswell and Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp of Syracuse, have been invited to attend a reception next Monday afternoon at the Vanderbilt Hotel to be given by the Republican Women's State Executive Committee. Mrs. MacDonald De Witt is chairman of the reception committee.

The Republican Women's State Executive will next week start a series of forums every Monday afternoon and evening for business women. These will be held in their headquarters, room 118, Vanderbilt Hotel. Men and women of prominence will speak. On Tuesday afternoon and evenings the committee will have a series of speakers. Women will be trained to present the party platform and to make campaign speeches. These meetings are being arranged by Mrs. Gracie Vannamee and Mrs. Rosalie Loew Whitney.

5,000,000 HARDING PICTURES ORDERED

G. O. P. National Committee Had Prepared for Printing.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Republican campaign for the election of Senator Warren G. Harding to the Presidency was launched today at National Committee headquarters here.

While Chairman Will H. Hays conferred with Capt. Victor Heintz, regional director, and other leaders, the committee moved from the Coliseum to its campaign headquarters in a hotel and passed decisions of convention matters in preparation for the coming drive.

The first lot of 5,000,000 lithographs of the nominee will be ready for distribution this week, Chairman Hays announced. The paper was purchased and cut several months ago and pictures and autographs of all the candidates obtained. By a strange coincidence the printer who won the contract chosen Senator Harding's picture to demonstrate his work.

G. O. P. WORKERS DEMAND PAY.

Service Men Say "It's $10"

Chairman Says "Honorary."

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. CHICAGO, June 14.—One hundred executive men who took through the hot and grind of the Republican National Convention last week today addressed a petition to Fred W. Upham, chairman of the Chicago Convention Committee, that they receive their $10 a day forthwith.

"I don't know who promised the men ten a day," said Mr. Upham. "Ushering for a Republican convention has always been an honorary job at previous conventions. It looks like a precedent will be established this time, though."

BOSTON GOES WILD TO HONOR COOLIDGE

Arrival of Delegates Occasion for Great and Enthusiastic Demonstration.

ECLIPSES ARMISTICE DAY

Hughes, Hoover, Lenroot and Hays Among Senders of Congratulations.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. BOSTON, June 14.—Out of the apparent calm which greeted the first news that Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts had been nominated for the Vice-Presidency arose a storm of thunderous cheering this afternoon which subsided only after the shrieking of whistles and sirens and the clanging of church bells had thrown the populace of Boston into a hysteria of enthusiasm.

The signal for the outbreak which rivalled that of the first Armistice Day was the arrival at South Station of the Massachusetts delegation to Chicago on a train plastered with Coolidge banners. Thousands of persons at the station were cheering madly, automobile sirens all over the city were making a deafening blast and the delegates, surprised, thought a belated troopship had arrived.

Headed by a band, the crowd at the station fell into line behind the delegates and marched to the State House, where the Governor, sitting quietly at work at his desk as usual, heard their bedlam. The demonstration had been planned by the Chamber of Commerce.

Whole Harbor Celebrates.

Officers of the chamber had asked factories and steamship companies to sound whistles and sirens and from the Mayor's office went the order to all fire boats and tug captains to join in the demonstration.

The Governor had no comment to make today on his political outlook. The day was a busy one for him. He walked from his downtown hotel this morning to the State House, receiving congratulations and cheers all along the way, and stopping now and then to return his thanks.

During the day hundreds of congratulatory messages, coming all the way from Nome, Alaska, and the southernmost part of the United States, were opened in the Governor's office.

Gov. Coolidge has had but little to say since he received the news of his success in Chicago. One thing, char-

TAMMANY PLANNING TO DEFEAT M'ADOO

Continued from First Page.

President Marshall. Both are wet enough to suit the metropolitan cry for beer and light wines and yet neither would depend solely on his prohibition stand to bring about his nomination or election.

Gov. Cox is liked because he is young and aggressive and because he is of the fighting type that the Democrats believe they will have to have this year if they are to triumph over the Republicans. Added to all this is the fact that Cox is from Ohio, which already looms as the pivotal State in the November election. He has shown his strength in this State more than once, and the Democrats believe he is the one man in the party who would be sure to carry it.

Gov. Edwards of New Jersey just is not in the fight so far as the conferees here are concerned. They dismiss him with the word "impossible," and go to talking about something else when his name is mentioned. As well as some of them like him personally and as fond as they are of the wet issue that he represents, they are not taking any chances on Bryan bolting the party in the prohibition issue which they say he would be sure to do should the Democrats nominate Edwards and write a platform to suit him.

Likewise is A. Mitchell Palmer dismissed as impossible. He probably cuts as much of a figure in the Democratic situation as Tom Watson or Hoke Smith of Georgia so far as mention of his name goes.

The impression is that unless the situation changes radically after San Francisco is reached, Cox will be the man finally determined on to receive the support of the anti-Administration and the anti-McAdoo forces, which have come to be almost one and the same. His name is mentioned favorably on every hand and hardly a derogatory word is uttered. It may be that Tammany, playing the wise game of not killing off its candidate by supporting him openly, will be for some one else in the first ballot or two, but when the decisive time in the fight arrives it will be Cox against the field if Tammany has his way.

WALSH DENIES CANDIDACY.

Day State Senator Says He Will Not Run for National Office.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Senator Walsh (Mass. Dem.) in a formal statement tonight announced that he did not purpose to accept any nomination for a national office. He said that newspaper reports had mentioned his name as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, running on the Democratic ticket with McAdoo or Cox, and on an independent ticket with La Follette or Johnson or some other candidate. He had no such intention, he said, and added:

"I hope the Democratic party will take an honest, courageous and truly American position on such issues as the treaty, the League of Nations, prohibition and bonuses."

Sure Relief

6 BELLANS Hot water Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

BELLANS

President Marshall. Both are wet enough

to suit the metropolitan cry for beer and light wines and yet neither would depend solely on his prohibition stand to bring about his nomination or election.

Gov. Cox is liked because he is young and aggressive and because he is of the fighting type that the Democrats believe they will have to have this year if they are to triumph over the Republicans. Added to all this is the fact that Cox is from Ohio, which already looms as the pivotal State in the November election. He has shown his strength in this State more than once, and the Democrats believe he is the one man in the party who would be sure to carry it.

Gov. Edwards of New Jersey just is not in the fight so far as the conferees here are concerned. They dismiss him with the word "impossible," and go to talking about something else when his name is mentioned. As well as some of them like him personally and as fond as they are of the wet issue that he represents, they are not taking any chances on Bryan bolting the party in the prohibition issue which they say he would be sure to do should the Democrats nominate Edwards and write a platform to suit him.

Likewise is A. Mitchell Palmer dismissed as impossible. He probably cuts as much of a figure in the Democratic situation as Tom Watson or Hoke Smith of Georgia so far as mention of his name goes.

The impression is that unless the situation changes radically after San Francisco is reached, Cox will be the man finally determined on to receive the support of the anti-Administration and the anti-McAdoo forces, which have come to be almost one and the same. His name is mentioned favorably on every hand and hardly a derogatory word is uttered. It may be that Tammany, playing the wise game of not killing off its candidate by supporting him openly, will be for some one else in the first ballot or two, but when the decisive time in the fight arrives it will be Cox against the field if Tammany has his way.

GETS $50,000 FOR LOST ARM.

Arthur Pettie Obtains Verdict Against New York Central.

A verdict of $50,000 was awarded to Arthur Pettie of 315 Decatur street, Brooklyn, in the Supreme Court at White Plains yesterday in his action against the New York Central Railroad for the loss of his right arm.

The case had been tried four times previously. Pettie asked $100,000.

If your "Lost" ad. is printed in THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD it not only gets a more than $50,000 circulation but, what is of more vital importance, it benefits by the fact that New Yorkers turn instinctively to SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD "Lost" ads. when they find articles of value they wish to return.—Ad.

35,418 New Telephone Stations Since January First

In spite of almost insurmountable obstacles, this Company, since January 1st, has installed 35,418 new telephones in New York City, almost as many telephones as there are in Jersey City, Hoboken and Bayonne combined.

We would have been proud of such an installation in normal times when materials were plentiful and quickly obtainable, and when the demands for service and equipment were moderate. But to have accomplished the task in the face of the obstacles to the proper conduct of business that have confronted this organization, just as they have every other organization in the country for the past six months and more, stamps the work as one of the biggest jobs this or any other Company has ever done.

Yet big as this accomplishment is, and regardless of efforts we have made and are making to meet the abnormal and ever increasing demand for service, new applications continue to come in faster than we can provide the necessary facilities.

64,843 Unfilled Applications are now on our books

The demands for new service are even greater than they were at the first of the year and the means for meeting them become less each day because of conditions outside the telephone business which are wholly beyond our control. Shipments for example from factories near Chicago that in normal times took but eight days to reach their destination now take all of ten weeks.

Not only is there a great shortage of the raw materials needed for fabricating telephone facilities, but the transportation of such material is so far behind schedule that it is almost impossible to carry our construction work to completion in anywhere near the time we planned it. There never has been a time when the demand for service was so great as it is today, and never a time when it was so difficult to secure even a small percentage of the material required to meet this demand.

Applications for service, from doctors, nurses, hospitals, for cases of serious illness and fire or police purposes, will, because of their emergent nature, be cared for first,—service required as a business necessity second, and thirdly, service that is for convenience only. This policy will be followed until conditions governing the production, transportation and installation of telephone materials improve. Until then we will meet conditions to the best of our ability and with every facility at our command.

FREY

Ideas are, after all, the real meat of advertising. The best advertising agents and the most experienced advertisers have learned to expect ideas as well as illustrations from the Frey organization. In other words, Frey Service is creative as well as interpretive.

Advertising Illustrations

CHARLES DANIEL FREY COMPANY

PLATINUM BLDG. NEW YORK MONROE BLDG. CHICAGO

MEN'S SHOE SHOP

2 WEST 38th STREET

Men's Genuine White Buckskin Lows

$12 Tax .20

Some Shops Get $15

The only difference is $3

THESE Men's white buckskin shoes are fine value at twelve dollars. Not relatively fine, but positively fine. They are as much under the market as most shoes are over it. One is a sport shoe with leather sole and heel. Another is a Blucher sport or tennis model, with a Neolin base. The third is embellished with mahogany calf tip, ball strap, lace stay, and heel foxing. Genuine white buckskin—and workmanship that is genuine white, also.

Franklin Simon & Co.

FIFTH AVENUE

STORE OPEN ALL DAY THIS SATURDAY